PERSONAL ATTRACTIVENESS

People are measured from their feet up quite as often as from their heads down.

Probably the most noticeable parts are your feet.

Therefore add to the attractiveness of your personal appearance by wearing "INVICTUS" shoes.

This season's shades in "INVICTUS" tans are more varied and attractive than ever—the 1911 "INVICTUS" Oxfords being exceptionally "natty."

Our Impressions

As we stated in last week's issue we returned from attending the Alberta and B. C. Press Convention, which was held at Nelson on July 25th, 26th and 27th, and while perhaps our readers are not so much interested in our personal enjoyment of the trip or the business transactions at the meetings, we feel that perhaps those who have not had the pleasure of the trip through the beautiful Kootenay and Arrowhead lakes would like a short description of what we saw and our impressions of the country through which we traveled.

Leaving Macleod in the special Pullman sleeper supplied by the courtesy of the C. P. R. on Thursday morning, July 25th, the trip through the Crow's Nest pass commenced, and the first stop of any importance was at Frank, Alta., the place of the big mountain rock slide. The scene on the old townsite is an extremely desolate one, thousands of tons of big rocks and boulders covering a big area and deserted houses making a sight never to be forgotten after once viewing it; but there is a bright side to this desolate one. The people of Frank by their pluck have started a new town at some distance from the old one which will far surpass the old town. The thriving towns of Coleman and Cranbrook were the next places of importance, and from there on the scenery through the mountains is superb. In places you can almost shake hands with the engineer from the rear cars and the speed of the train with steam shut off and breaks on was excessive. Kootenay Landing was our next stop. Here we changed our means of transportation to one of the splendid lake boats of the C. P. R., the "Kuskanook," and the trip to Nelson by boat commenced. The most important point before reaching Nelson is Proctor, a town lying on the flats of the Kootenay lake and a big fruit growing centre. Nelson was reached on Thursday night about 8 o'clock and the party was taken in charge at once by Mr. W. G. Foster of the Nelson News, the Nelson Board of Trade and Mr. Currie, the Nelson Publicity Commissioner, who had made all arrangements to put up the party at the Strathcona and Hume hotels. In spite of the lateness of the hour a business meeting of the association was held at the City Hall where Mayor Annabel gave an address of welcome, after which the officers for the year were chosen. Mr. M. R. Jennings of the Edmonton Journal was elected president and Mr. C. F. Hayes of the Edmonton Bulletin, Sec.-Treas., and Edmonton was decided on as the next meeting place.

Friday morning was taken up with a meeting and at noon the members were entertained at luncheon at the Strathcona hotel by the Nelson Canadian Club. In the afternoon the members and their ladies entrained for Bonington Falls and the Slovan fishing pools. Here is where the party began to see the splendid possibilities of Nelson and the surrounding district. Bonington Falls supplies the whole Kootenay district with electric power and they are big enough to supply a city of the size of New York, the electric plant being one of the largest on the North American continent. Continuing on down the line for about two miles Slovan lake is reached and the delegates with the ladies were entertained at the C. P. R. chalet, Creel Lodge, the men being supplied with fishing rods, bait, boats and guides and taken out to the foot of the falls for an enjoyable afternoon's fishing trip, which resulted in a fine catch of rainbow trout. Just here we wish to thank Mr. C. Paddy of Slovan, who had charge of the boat, in which were Mr. C. F. Hayes, Edmonton; Mr. Galbraith, Red Deer News, and the writer, for his extremely kind assistance to us on the trip, Mr. Galbraith having caught the largest fish in the party, a trout weighing about three pounds. The ladies were entertained by the members of the Lodge at a pink tea and taken around and shown the sights. Back to Nelson, smoker at night at the Nelson Yacht Club house, the ladies being treated to a splendid reception at the Strathcona Hotel.

Saturday the C. P. R. steamer, "Moyie," was chartered and the delegates were taken to Kaslo where the Board of Trade and public had arranged a fourteen course banquet which would do credit to a town five times the size of Kaslo. At this function the ladies of Kaslo paid a pretty compliment to the ladies of the party by presenting each of them with a pretty wicker work basket filled with great big luscious cherries and flowers grown in the town. After the banquet conveyances were supplied and the party were taken out to the fruit ranches where they were given cart blanche amongst the cherry, apple pear and raspberry trees and, believe us, what those trees suffered from the raid of fruit hungry press and newspaper men and women from the baldheaded prairie would be shameful to report. Kaslo is one of nature's beauty spots lying as it does on a plateau on the side of the lake and surrounded on its land side by hundreds of fruit ranches. It was hard to break away, the people of this little town were so kind and thoughtful for the pleasure of our party. Leaving Kaslo the next place of interest at which we stopped was the famous Rondel Blue Bell silver and lead mine. Here the party were taken in charge by the management of the mines, who first supplied us with candles and then took us into the bowels of the earth where the miners were seen at work—a sight never to be forgotten by those who had the privilege of seeing it. It is an impossibility to give a description of this mine in the small space at our command, suffice it to say that if our readers ever have a chance to visit this wonderful country they should not come away without seeing one of the biggest industries of B. C. From the mines the party again entered the boat, and after an hour or two riding on the lake we came to the big C. P. R. tourist hotel, the "Kootenay," at Balfour, opposite Procter. Here the party landed and were taken up to the hotel for a splendid banquet tendered by the Nelson Board of Trade. Words fail us in trying to describe this hotel. It was opened last May and is the last word in hotel construction with its immense rooms and halls and spacious big verandah and its elevation of from two to three hundred feet above the lake, which helps to set off its imposing outside grandeur. If you ever are able to travel this way, be sure and make it a point to visit this palatial hostelry. It was a fitting climax to the convention that a dinner such as this in this splendid place should be given, and all those who had the privilege of attending it will remember it as long as life lasts as one of the most enjoyable of their lives.

Several meetings of the Association had been held on board the boat and consequently business was practically over and those whose business was

The story goes, said the priest, that after uttering the celebrated curse against the Clavels, the Abbot fell into dire poverty and sickness. He was an old man at the time when he was cast out, and not equal to the change. A splendid tomb had already been made for him, and when Anthony Clavel was dying he gave orders that he should be buried in the Abbot's tomb, and that masses should be said for him daily in the chapel attached to the house which he had built from the Abbey ruins. We are told that his orders were carried out, but that a fearful thunderstorm came on during the burial service, that all the lights in the chapel went out and the place became pitch dark. When the panic which followed subsided, and it was possible to see—the body of Anthony Clavel had disappeared, and in its stead lay the Abbot, newly dead, arrayed in his robes, and bearing in his hand a pastoral staff. How much of the story was true I cannot say, but it is certain that the tomb, which is still in the chapel, has been called the Abbot's tomb ever since, and that, when it was opened a hundred years ago, it was the skeleton of the Abbot, staff and all, which lay there, and not that of Anthony Clavel.

It is a very interesting legend, in any case, Harry observed.

It is, the priest agreed.

Then he stood for a moment, as if lost in thought, with his eyes fixed on the ground.

The Church will have its own again, you see! he said suddenly, looking up. Good morning to you!

He walked rapidly away, leaving Harry with an uncomfortable feeling of regret at having met him.

He did not want to be superstitious, but there was something ill-omened about the black-robed figure which had suddenly broken in upon his day-dreams with weird stories of the past. At every step he took, old memories seemed to haunt him. He was bent now on an errand the aim of which was to make Lady Anne forget all but the present; and Father Carey seemed to him at this juncture as a raven preaching the refrain—
Nevermore!

Lady Anne was in the fruit garden, Susan told him. Miss Jessop was in a sulky temper, as not infrequently happened with her.

Edwin's at the house, she said in reply to Harry's inquiry after the child. Granter sent for him to see the Parish priest and says the child is to be brought up a Catholic. It is enough to make my poor sister Julia turn in her grave!

It seems natural enough, if Mr Jessop is himself a Catholic, Harry suggested.

He used to be, Susan protested. And I'm thinkin' he's doing this now out of spite because he's found out that I let Edwin fall in the pond.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured.

A Quebec man, N. Henri Tardif, of St. Casimir, writes in a letter dated Mar. 31, 1911: "I had a very bad skin, all covered with eruption, eight years ago. I have had all of both my shoulders covered with it, and the high part of my arms, and my face, but it was the worst on my shoulders. I tried many different remedies to cure it, but nothing was any good. At last I went to an apothecary. He asked me if I had ever used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I told him no, and I bought a box of Cuticura Ointment and a cake of Cuticura Soap. I used three boxes of Cuticura Ointment, but I am glad of the same, for Cuticura Soap and Ointment completely cured me of my skin eruption. I spread the Cuticura Ointment on all my sore parts, and I think that in washing my face with the Cuticura Soap, it hindered my eruption from itching and burning. I tried many remedies during three or four years but Cuticura Soap and Ointment cured me."

(Signed) N. Henri Tardif.

Harry was not in the mood to be interested in the religious views of the Jessop family. He was allowed to find his way to Lady Anne, and first caught sight of her standing under a plum tree in the orchard, with one hand upraised and head lifted, as she touched the fruit softly to see whether it was ripe.

As usual, she was dressed in white; it was embroidered linen, he thought, and fastened at the neck was a spray of white roses. She was carrying her garden hat slung on her arm, for it was a day of heavy heat, sunless, under a misty sky.

At sight of Harry she smiled at first, but her smile quickly gave place to a look of anxiety.

You are rather late, she began as she gave him her hand. I was beginning to think that you were not coming.

I was here at half-past three, he said, but I met the priest at the gate.

Father Carey! Did he speak to you?

Yes, he replied. He told me the story of Anthony Clavel and his tomb, of which the last Abbot of Loders dispossessed him so cleverly. The tomb is in the chapel belonging to the house, I suppose?

Yes, she answered. You can see it, if you wish.

She spoke absently, and then remained silent for a moment. Suddenly she asked him—

Did Father Carey say anything else to you?

Why, no! Why should he? I do not know him, nor he me.

Of course not! Some of these plums are nearly ripe already.

She stretched up her hand again. His eyes were fascinated by the supple turn of her wrist, from which the loose cuff had slipped. Among the dark-green leaves it showed white as an apple blossom.

Lady Anne, he said deliberately, of course you know what I have come to say to you?

Her uplifted hand fell to her side. The color fled from her face leaving even her lips pale.

How can I guess? she faltered. How can I possibly know?

It has been so evident, I should think, from the beginning, he said encouraged by her agitation. As soon as I first met you struggling in the grasp of that brutal ruffian—

Yes, yes.

And whenever I have met you since; when you showed me around this strange old place; when you sent for me to ask me about that fellow's movements; when you came and had tea with me at the farm, and that wretched creature frightened you—

Well, what then? she asked breathlessly, as he paused. Please go on.

It is only to say that whenever I see you I worship you a little more, he ventured boldly.

She drew a deep breath, and sank down upon the trunk of a felled tree. Oh! she exclaimed with a sigh of unmistakable relief. Is that all?

CHAPTER XXVIII

Harry Clavel had plenty of humor and very little vanity.

Lady Anne's evident relief when she discovered that he only meant to make love to her would have angered many men; it merely amused him.

Why, yes, that is all, he said, seating himself on another of the trees which had been cut down. And so I have come over this afternoon to ask you to marry me.

Her face looked quiet and tranquil now. She smiled at him indulgently.

You cannot be serious? she said. I should not be serious or sane either if I did not love you, Lady Anne.

Why, how old are you? she inquired in the tone a teacher uses to the smallest boy in the class.

Twenty-four, he answered. But I really don't see what that has to do with it.

I do; at twenty-four a man is only a lad. You are years younger than I, Mr. Worth.

If you were fifty, Lady Anne, I should love you just in the same way. And pardon me for saying so, you are not fifty, but twenty-eight.

In my twenty-ninth year.

And I am in my twenty-fifth. What possible difference does it make that you were sent to bless the world four years before I entered it?

She sighed and grew serious.

If you knew how old I feel! she murmured.

Razors of Centuries Ago

We wear things and use things daily, of the origin of which we have not the slightest idea, and were we to be asked concerning their history we would be at a loss to answer.

This was illustrated when two young men well but quietly dressed, were admiring a well-known picture of life in the time of Julius Caesar which was exhibited in a shop window. One of the men remarked, while looking at the picture, that he wondered how the Romans kept their faces smooth and whether they ever shaved; and if they shaved, what were their razors like? Neither of the men could answer the question, and so they immediately consulted various authorities on the subject and found to their surprise, that razors were used for shaving in a very early part of the world's history.

The Egyptians used some kind of a razor, though the Levitical code expressly forbade the shaving of the beard. It is believed the primitive shaving instruments were made of sharpened flints. Savages in the remote islands scattered throughout the Pacific still use two pieces of flint of the same size for this purpose and pieces of shells or shark's teeth are also used.

Gentlemen,—In June, '98, I had my hand and wrist bitten and badly mangled by a vicious horse. I suffered greatly for several days and the tooth cuts refused to heal until your agent gave me a bottle of MINARD'S LINIMENT, which I began using. The effect was magical; in five hours the pain had ceased and in two weeks the wounds had completely healed and my hand and arm were as well as ever.

Thrashing With Oxen

The methods and implements of agriculture in Cyprus are still somewhat primitive, and the light wooden plough, drawn by oxen, merely turns up the soil a few inches. Steam ploughs, self-binders, etc., are unknown here but every effort is being made by the Agricultural Department to induce the peasantry to adopt more scientific methods and modern implements.

Ploughing commences in January, after the winter rains, and about March or April the field is cross ploughed. Sowing begins, as a rule, after the autumn rains, and the harvest takes place at the end of May, June, July, and August. The grain is threshed out in a peculiar manner. It is placed on the threshing floor, and threshed out by means of a yoke of oxen, attached to a board studded with flints, on which sits the driver and the combined weight of the driver and the roughness of the flints breaks the grain. The straw, which is much broken in this process, is mixed with chaff, and used as fodder.

Ready-made Medicine.—You need no physician for ordinary ills when you have at hand a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. For coughs, colds, sore throat, bronchial troubles, it is invaluable for scalds, burns, bruises, sprains it is unsurpassed, while for cuts, sores, ulcers and the like it is an unquestionable healer. It needs no testimonial other than the use, and that will satisfy anyone as to its effectiveness.

Practical Advice

Mr. Lovelace was one of those people who on every possible occasion consulted his solicitor. Nothing pleased him more than to go to law. The lawyers regarded him as an invaluable asset.

I have been grossly insulted! he exclaimed, rushing into the office of his solicitor for the seventh time in three days.

In what way, asked the solicitor, somewhat wearily.

My next-door neighbor has declared he will pull my nose next time he meets me. What shall I do about it?

Well, said the former, as if he had given the case due deliberation, I should soap it, then it will slip through his fingers. Good day! My bill will follow in due course.

Yes, replied the young woman, with a glance at her rival's complexion, and hand-painted, too.

A WOMAN'S WISDOM.

The worried mother wakes up to hear her baby's heavy breathing—a little cough—perhaps the croup or whooping cough. She does not want to send for the doctor when perhaps the trouble does not amount to much. Finally she thinks of that medical book her father gave her, The Common Sense Medical Adviser, by R. V. Pierce, M. D. She says "just the thing to find out what is the matter with the little dear." Two million households in this country own one—and it's to be had for only 31c. in stamps—1,000 pages in splendid cloth binding. A good family adviser in any emergency. It is for either sex. This is what many women write Dr. Pierce—in respect to his "Favorite Prescription," a remedy which has made thousands of melancholy and miserable women cheerful and happy, by curing the painful womanly diseases which undermine a woman's health and strength.

"My desire is to write a few lines to let you know what your valuable medicine has done for me," writes Mrs. MARGARET ZURENBERG, of 323 S. Benton Street, Baltimore, Md. "Before the doctor came to our house I was a very sick woman. I wrote you for advice which was kindly given and which made me a different woman in a short time. After taking the first bottle of 'Favorite Prescription' I began improving so that I hardly knew I was in such a condition. I did my own housework—washing and ironing, cooking, sewing, and the worst of all nursed three children who had whooping cough. I hardly knew of the advent ten minutes before—so easy was it. The baby is as fat as a butter-ball. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best medicine for any woman to take when in this condition. I recommend it to all my friends."

DEBATE MAY NOW POSTPONE OPENING OF PANAMA CANAL

President Taft Practically Promised to have the Canal Ready by Next Year, but Unless Congress Takes Action at Once, There will be Further Delay

Washington. — Unless Congress takes action to provide for the operation of the Panama Canal at the present session, President Taft and Secretary of War Stimson believe that it will be practically impossible for the army of engineers to keep their promise and open the big ditch to ships of the world next year.

According to the information brought to the White House the prospect of action by Congress on canal legislation at this session is growing remote.

Mr. Stimson was understood to believe that there is little contention over the proposed administration and operation of the canal, but the question of tolls and railroad-owned steamships have stirred up controversy in both houses, and today neither the president nor his secretary of war were hopeful of settling it.

The Panama Bill was put aside again in the Senate after Senator Brandegee, who is guiding it, stated that the adjournment probably would be hastened if it were considered in the Senate, while the Post Office Bill was in conference, but the only ray of comfort that filtered through the White House was the news that Representative Adamson of Georgia, chairman of the House Committee on Interstate Commerce, was considering the introduction of a journal resolution providing for the machinery of administration and operation of the canal.

Mr. Adamson was understood to be ready to bring in such a question whenever it becomes apparent that there is no chance of a compromise and the two houses become deadlocked over the other question.

Mr. Taft was much concerned over the prospect of a delay in the opening of the canal.

When he broke ground at San Francisco last October for the Panama Pacific Exposition he practically promised the people of the slope country to have the canal ready next year, spoke of the Oregon as the ship that should first cleave its water, and made it clear that he would like to see on her bridge when the trip began.

So far the president has refused to write a special message to Congress on the subject of the Canal.

He told visitors recently that he did not believe it was necessary for him further to advise Congress of his position.

Within the last few days, however, members of the House have notified him that they would oppose any legislation in regard to the Panama Canal that did not settle what the questions involved.

Secretary Stimson has taken issue with Congress, but the president has not made his attitude known.

Aquith May Visit Canada

London.—The Daily Mail states that it is now understood that Premier Aquith and the first lord of the admiralty will visit Canada after Rt. Hon. R. L. Borden's return, at a date not yet definitely fixed.

In any event, the journey will be made on one of Britain's dreadnoughts and the visit may be made the occasion of an Imperial demonstration, declares the Daily Mail, and Quebec, a point of compliment to the French Canadians, would be the ideal place. Any reserve that has been felt by a section of the French-Canadians ought to be removed by the speeches which welcome Premier Borden and his colleagues in France.

France will be the first to encourage them in any decision that will strengthen the naval power of Great Britain, for upon that power and upon the army of France rest the foundations of the understanding which is the assurance of peace.

Reduced Rate for Help to Assist Farmers

Winnipeg.—The railway companies have arranged with the agents representing the different governments of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta to give a one-cent-a-mile rate to all parts where they are needed by some farmers. This rate will start August 5, and certificates must be obtained from the provincial immigration industrial bureau, from the Dominion immigration office and also from the agents representing Saskatchewan and Alberta.

These rates will only be good for a couple of weeks, so as to assist the farmers before the arrival of the excursions, which will take place after August 5. The minimum fare will be eighty cents.

Would Return British Visit

Calgary.—The Calgary board of trade will inaugurate a movement to have manufacturers and business men of the west return the visit of the British manufacturers. The matter was broached at a meeting of the board and was very favorably received. It is to be taken up with other civic organizations of the west.

To Develop Alberta Milk Industry. Edmonton.—Planning to establish 60 milk and cream factories in the various provinces of the Dominion, A. F. McLaren of Toronto, R. P. McLaren, and T. B. Miller of Red Deer, are in the city in connection with the development of the milk industry in Alberta.

Press Churchill to See us

Ottawa.—It is stated in official circles here that a pressing invitation has been extended to Hon. Winston Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, to visit Canada this season when parliament is in session to take the weight of his advice in connection with Canada's temporary and permanent naval policy.

Should Mr. Churchill consent to come it is improbable that he will arrive before January owing to the stress of work in the British House during November when the Home Rule debate is expected to be at its hottest.

Alberta's Growth

Edmonton.—While complete data of the year's immigration into Alberta are not yet available, Charles S. Hotchkiss, chief publicity commissioner for the province, who has unique opportunities of judging the rate of settlement estimates the increase of Alberta's population by settlement during 1912 at between 40,000 and 50,000 people.

FOR STATISTICAL BUREAU

Commission Reports in Favor of Establishing New Bureau

Ottawa, Ont.—It is probable that the statistical commission, composed of Professor Adam Shortt, Richard Gregg, and E. S. Goates, recently appointed to investigate the question of collecting statistics will recommend the formation of a statistical bureau. The commission will report to the minister of trade and commerce by September 15 next.

At present each department collects its own statistics and in the general results there is a great deal of overlapping. A bureau would serve to concentrate the energy now used, and to compile more authoritative figures.

The commission is at present interviewing various provincial governments on the question, co-operation with provincial departments also being desired.

To Keep Some at Home

Toronto.—While the Canadian West is calling for thousands of farm laborers Ontario is finding them scarce also, and in the estimate of Robert Birmingham, who is finding employment for immigrants at the immigration office at the Union Station he could provide 20,000 farm hands with work in Western Ontario if they were available. Campaigns are being conducted by the Ontario immigration authorities to keep farm laborers in Ontario.

In speaking of the big demand for farm help in Ontario, Birmingham said that farmers were employing more than in the past as the result of the high profits in farming.

Inspect Le Pas Bridge

Le Pas, Man.—Hon. F. Cochrane accompanied by General Manager MacLeod and General Superintendent Wilcox, of the C.N.R., inspected the bridge over the Saskatchewan with Chief Engineer Armstrong, of the Hudson Bay railway, and was greatly pleased with the work accomplished, wiring the construction company from here to further the work with the utmost speed. He later visited the old English church, being deeply interested in the Franklin relics stored there. The party after a few hours inspection of the town entrained again for Hudson Bay Junction.

Warlike Speech by Duchess

London.—The Duchess of Abercorn in a speech at Lifford, Donegal, today declared that the women of Ulster were no less eager to resist home rule than the men.

The Ulster women, she said, are not to be trifled with. Many of us are descendants of the women whose heroism in one of the world's most memorable sieges was thus described by Lord Macaulay: The women of Derry were seen amid the thickest fire, serving out water and ammunition to their husbands and brothers. Ladies, it has been done, and it can be done again.

Capt. Bernier on Quest for Gold Mines

Quebec.—Captain Bernier, former commander of the government steamer Arctic, has left on the schooner Minnie Maud, for a cruise in the Arctic islands in search of gold mines.

In answer to inquiries, Captain Bernier declined to give any information on his destination or on the length of his trip.

He has a crew of seven men, all having served on his previous expeditions to the Arctic regions. He said to a friend that he might be two or three years absent.

HARVEST EXCURSIONS

C. P. R. to Bring 58,000 Men West to Help With Wheat Crop

Montreal.—The Canadian Pacific Railway has announced the dates of the numerous harvester excursions which it will run to carry to the west the 58,000 hands required to handle the crop this year.

The excursions will commence from the maritime provinces on August 12; the second leaves August 16, and will be for the benefit of prospective harvesters in the province of Quebec and eastern Ontario as far as Kingston and Renfrew. The third will leave August 20 and will be run from Toronto and west to Sarnia and south of there, while a fourth will start August 23 from northwest Ontario and the district between Toronto and Kingston and Sharbot Lake.

The company has also arranged for additional excursions to be run from Toronto and all points east in Ontario, Quebec and the Maritime provinces August 28, and from Toronto and all points west August 30.

CAPTAIN FRED W. YOUNG

Liverpool.—Captain Young, of the Liverpool Salvage Association, has just completed his task of rescuing from the Ocean the hidden wealth which the sunken liner contained when it sank after collision with the Pisagua. He is no ordinary fisherman. Gold, silver and ivory—what he captures from the sea. Sometimes he will recover a great vessel and all its cargo from fathoms deep in water. The records of his work read like a romance. No task seems too impossible for his army of divers and artificers, employing as they do every device of modern mechanical science.

Quebec Minerals

Quebec.—The annual report of the mines branch of the province of Quebec for 1911 has just been issued, showing that last year the value of the production of the Quebec mines amounted to $8,679,769. This is an increase of $1,356,505 as compared with the preceding year. In 1911 the mines of the province produced asbestos, copper ore, iron ores, mica, graphite, magnesite and all kinds of structural materials.

C. P. R. Double Tracking

Vancouver.—Announcement was made today that the Canadian Pacific Railway has appropriated three million dollars for the construction immediately of fifty-seven miles of double tracking from Hammond Station, B.C., to Ruby Creek. This means that the transcontinental line will be doubly tracked for the first 81 miles east of Vancouver. The work is to be finished this autumn.

Sir G. Askwith Coming

London.—The British government has appointed Sir George Askwith, of the board of trade, to proceed to Canada and make investigation into the working of the industrial disputes act with a view to its possible application in England.

Rebels Must Stop Raids

Washington.—Secretary Knox has officially informed General Pascual Orozco, leader of the Mexican rebels that raids and attacks upon Americans and American property in northern Mexico must be stopped immediately or the United States would take preventive measures.

Prof. Morehouse Succeeds Bedford

Winnipeg.—Prof. Morehouse has been appointed as successor to Prof. Bedford in the department of field husbandry in the Manitoba agricultural college. Prof. Morehouse is a native of Canada, having been born and brought up on a farm in Lamont County Ontario.

PANAMA CANAL LEGISLATION

U.S. Secretary of War Says It Will Take Year to Organize Operation

Washington.—A request that the Panama Canal legislation be split into separate bills so that the fight over free tolls may not hold up the immediate passage of other provisions was made at the house by Secretary of War Stimson. He informed the interstate commerce commission that it will take a year to organize an operating organization for the canal.

Unless funds are immediately voted for this purpose, Stimson pointed out that it might go over for another year and the canal opening date would find the big ditch without a competent operating force. It is also necessary Stimson believes, if economy is to be effected, for money to be apportioned at once, for the construction of dry docks, so that the machinery now being gradually retired in the canal building may be utilized in the new work. The secretary also said it was absolutely necessary that maximum and minimum toll figures be set this session, so that the world's shipping interests which make their contracts sometimes two years in advance may be able to figure out the freight charges.

LOSS IS ABOUT $750,000

Helvetia Is Total Loss—Empress of Britain Will Miss Four Trips

Montreal.—An approximate estimate of the loss to the C.P.R. and the British and Chilean Steamship Company as a result of the collision of the Empress of Britain and the steamer Helvetia in the Gulf of St. Lawrence Saturday afternoon, by which the Helvetia was sunk and the bows of the Empress were badly battered, is given as nearly three-quarters of a million dollars by local steamship authorities. The total loss is as follows:—

Approximate value of the Helvetia $250,000; approximate value of the 70,000 tons of steam coal at $4 a ton $28,000; approximate cost of repairs to Empress of Britain $100,000. Approximate loss of receipts to C.P.R. on account of perhaps four trips being cancelled, each trip it is estimated would net $75,000; gross $300,000; loss to British and Chilean Steamship Co., $250,000; loss to Dominion Coal Company $28,000; loss to C.P.R. $400,000; total $678,000. Though the company have no agents here it is presumed by steamship men that the Helvetia was fully insured as was her cargo. The Empress of Britain was insured against damage only.

Marked Activity in Calgary

Calgary, Alta.—A progressive policy in every line of municipal and industrial development continues in evidence in Calgary. The extension of the gravity waterworks system including installation of filtration plant will call for an outlay of $400,000. A bylaw will be submitted at an early date authorizing the expenditure. Natural gas is to be used for the civic auxiliary power plant. Elevator companies throughout the district are making a determined effort to prepare for the promised bumper crop. A little warm, dry weather just at this time would do no harm to the wheat crop. Building operations both in the residence and the business sections continue very brisk. Four new railway lines are now projected from Calgary, construction work on which is being put through to early completion.

Revealed Secret Gate

Winnipeg.—The severe storm on Saturday laid bare to the eyes one of the historic landmarks of Winnipeg in the underground gateway of Old Fort Garry which now may be seen at the foot of Main street, just beyond the new C.N.R. bridge over the Assiniboine river. The rain struck the ground with such force that it has opened a hole about twenty feet deep and ten feet wide. The gateway is clearly to be seen and also the solid stonework of the wall. The bank of the river has been filled in as the gateway is now some distance from the river, in fact nearly thirty feet, while it was formerly right on the bank. It is claimed that by this secret gate, Thomas Scott made good his escape from the Fort in 1870.

More Cattle for Alberta

Cardston, Alta.—The first extensive shipments of genuine steers ever brought into Alberta are now being made from Mexico for the account of Gordon Ironsides & Fares, the well-known cattle men. In all, 1,000 head of long-horned steers are being brought here on ten trains. Owing to the present difficulties in Mexico it was necessary to bring the cattle to El Paso, Texas, under a strong guard of Mexican rurales and mounted police. The cattle business is now in a flourishing condition in the Cardston district, while reports from all quarters indicate bumper crops, especially in wheat and small grains.

Turkish Amendment

Constantinople.—The government introduced in the chamber of deputies an amendment to the constitution whereby the Sultan is empowered to dissolve the chamber under exceptional circumstances, without the consent of the senate, provided he summons a new chamber within six months.

An trade has been issued, granting amnesty to 130 exiles, who include all the dignitaries of the old regime.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL

LESSON VI.—THIRD QUARTER, FOR AUGUST 11, 1912

Text of the Lesson, Mark iv, to v, 20,

Memory verses, 38, 39—Golden Text

Ps. xiv, 1, 2 (R.V.)—Commentary

Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

It comes to me as I begin to write this lesson that we should always see Jesus in His life on earth among men as God manifest in the flesh, revealing God to us, that we may know Him personally and trust Him and let Him live in us, that others may know Him, for the poor world knoweth Him not. We must also recognize always a great adversary, the devil, who hates God and man and would kill God if he could and take His throne. He would keep men in ignorance of God and of Christ and possess them for his own ends and turn them against God. He has great power with God's permission and will exert it to the full against God before he is finally overthrown. In the two portions of today's lesson we see the Son of God crossing the sea of Galilee to deliver a man (or, according to Matthew, two men) from the power of the devil, and on the way it seems as if a great storm would sink the boat and drown all who were in it. Did the devil know that he was about to lose a bit of his property, and did he seek by this storm to kill Christ and His disciples? Let those tell who know more than I do, but this we do know—that he tried to kill Him as a babe in Bethlehem and finally did kill Him by the Jewish rulers at the hands of the Romans. Thank God He is arisen from the dead, is alive forevermore, is at the right hand of the majesty on high, has all power in heaven and on earth and is waiting His time to put the devil in the bottomless pit and set up a kingdom of peace and righteousness on earth.

In this great storm on Galilee see Him peacefully sleeping on a pillow in the hinder part of the ship, though the waves beat into the ship and it was full of water, and recognize in Him a weary man, a real man, partaker of flesh and blood, but without sin, and rejoice that we have a High Priest who is touched with the feeling of our infirmities (Heb. ii, 14; iv, 15). He is in the midst of trouble, as the disciples see it, and yet He is not troubled. And on the last night before His crucifixion He said to His disciples, "In the world ye shall have tribulation but in Me peace; let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid" (John xvi, 33; xiv, 27).

When one was discoursing on the teaching of Christ a man who had never before heard such teaching said "Beautiful, beautiful, but can you do it?" Jesus Himself could do it, and He did it. He always did what He taught (Acts i, 1). The ship could not sink, neither could the disciples perish, with Christ in their midst, but they did not know Him and were therefore filled with fear. They awoke Him with the cry Lord, save us! and with the question Master, carest Thou not that we perish? His reply was: Why are ye fearful, O ye of little faith? Where is your faith? (Matt. viii, 26; Luke viii, 25). They were troubled by what they saw. Faith endures by seeing the invisible. We are expected to walk by faith, not by sight (II Cor. v, 7). He rebuked the wind and the raging of the sea and said, Peace, be still, and there was a great calm (verse 39; Luke viii, 24). The rebuking compared with Zech. iii, 2, and Jude 9, leads me to believe that the person referred to in those passages had something to do with this storm. As the disciples saw the power of His word that even the wind and the sea obey Him? Our hearts exultingly cry, Jesus is God! The perfect man a little while ago so peacefully asleep has power over wind and sea and all in the furnace with Daniel's friends the elements. He it is who walked and quenched the violence of fire and spent the night with Daniel and shut the lions' mouths. To know Him is peace at all times.

Now see Him meeting the tempest tossed man of Gadara, possessed by a legion of demons, a naked wild man, exceeding fierce, whom no one could bind or tame, for he broke all chains and fetters, and all men were afraid of him. The poor demoniac seems to long for deliverance, for he ran to Jesus, as if he knew that He could deliver him, but the demons were strong within him. They knew Jesus and called Him Son of the Most High God (verse 7). They knew the doom that awaited them and ask, "Art thou come hither to torment us before the time?" (Matt. viii, 29). They knew of the place prepared for them and beg not to be sent to the abyss or bottomless pit (Luke viii, 31, R.V.). There is such a place, and there is a place called the lake of fire, everlasting fire prepared for the devil and his angels (Rev. xx, 14, 15; Matt. xxv, 41). All who deny this or make light of it are not for the time controlled by the spirit of truth. Although there are so many demons in the man they are spoken of as one, for Jesus said, "Come out of the man thou unclean spirit" (verse 8), and, having received permission, they went into the swine, and the whole herd about 2,000, were drowned in the sea. Behold the change in the man who had been the terror of the neighborhood! See him clothed and in his right mind and longing to stay with Jesus.

What Canadian Newspapers Say

About Sanger's Greater European Circus, which will exhibit at Didsbury Wednesday, August 14:

The following verbatim extracts from the Canadian press tell the real truth. It is unbiased testimony. Sanger's Greater European Shows is a standard, high grade exhibition. It employs only artists of real ability and reputation. It indulges in no bombast, exaggeration or false promises. Jealous rivals may knock, but these extracts show that you will make no mistake by choosing the great Sanger shows for your patronage.

The daily Planet, Chatham, Ont., May 28th, 1912:

"Sanger's European Circus pitched its tents on the fair grounds, and was thronged with interested spectators. The attractions were all good, the Earl troupe being especially fine. Many other acts brought forth deafening applause. The courteous treatment accorded the patrons made them many friends in this city. It was a clean show and was entirely free from the rough element often seen with other circuses."

Welland, Ont., Telegraph, May 21st, 1912.

"Sanger's European Circus gave two successful shows here yesterday to highly pleased audiences. Many of the acts were extraordinary, and the gentlemanly deportment of the show people was a pleasing feature."

Dunville, Ont., Chronicle, May 21st.

"Sanger's Circus was here Wednesday and pleased the two very large audiences that attended. That it was a clean, high class exhibition, and entirely free from objectionable features, was a matter of comment on all sides. They will be sure of generous patronage upon any future visit to this district."

Note—Every paper in Canadian towns where this show has visited speak in similar terms. No show that ever visited the Dominion has met with greater popular approval.

Our Impressions

located along the Crow's Nest stayed over at the hotel till Sunday morning to take the boat back home.

It was the writer's privilege to return to Nelson with the others to return by Revelstoke and the main line home, but this could not be done till Sunday evening. On Sunday morning those who felt so disposed attended some of the splendid churches in Nelson. On Sunday afternoon the party was again taken in hand by the citizens of Nelson and this was the time when we began to realize what possibilities lay in the future of Nelson. We were taken in the street car up the mountain which lays at the back of Nelson and the view obtained was simply splendid. The city lay at the lakeside like a little gem and for miles around as far as the eye could see there were fruit ranches; a sight never to be forgotten. In Nelson proper another thing that struck the visitors so favorably was the splendid flower gardens with their beautiful roses and other plants. Coming down from the mountain the party was divided and taken out onto the lake in motor launches and shown some of the beautiful residences that skirted the lakeside, but which was a surprise as these cannot be seen on the big boats which are too far out on the water and the houses and ranches are hidden by big wind breaks of trees. This ended our stay at Nelson and we wish to thank everyone who had anything to do with the splendid reception accorded us and to assure the people of Nelson that our visit will be remembered as one of the landmarks in our lives because of the kindness and cordiality shown to us.

The party left on Sunday evening for east Robson where the boat was again taken about one o'clock in the morning for the return trip up the Arrowhead lakes to Revelstoke. The scenery was again repeated, only the lakes not being so wide a better view was had of the fruit ranches and lumber industries of this immense country. A stop of about two hours was made at Nakusp, where we had the pleasure of calling upon Mr. Thos. Abriel, who is well known in these parts. Mr. Abriel was kind enough to show us the town and would have taken us out to his big fruit ranch if time had not been limited. However, our impressions of Nakusp were very favorable and it appears that the lumbering industry, which is the mainstay of this country, is doing much to build up the town. Now for Revelstoke, which was reached about three o'clock on Monday afternoon. Having about nine hours to wait here, arrangements had been made for our reception by the Revelstoke Board of Trade. Autos for the ladies, democrats and buggies for the gentlemen of the party were provided and we were taken for a spin around Revelstoke. On this trip the writer was taken over a government road by the side of a canyon which will live in his memory as one of the hair raising experiences of his life. The canyon is about two miles out of town and the road runs up alongside of a mountain which in some parts has fallen away and the road had to be built by forcing big timbers into its side and there was nothing to stop horses and passengers from tumbling to sudden death hundreds of feet below in the rough turbulent waters of the Columbia river except a log placed on the edge of the road. Revelstoke is a prosperous town and a big divisional point on the C. P. R.

Space will not permit us to give any further report of the trip on the main line of the C. P. R. through the mountains to Calgary, which city the party reached on Tuesday afternoon thoroughly tired out but enthusiastic over the trip.

Before closing we wish to thank the C. P. R. for the courtesy extended to us all through the trip and also to Mr. Troutman, the representative of the vice president of the company, who attended the party on their trip. Our thanks is also especially extended to Mr. W. G. Foster of the Nelson News; Mr. Currie, publicity commissioner; the Nelson Board of Trade, and all others who helped to make our trip such a pleasant one by their kindness and courtesy, as well as Mr. J. H. Woods of the Calgary Herald and Mr. Jennings of the Edmonton Journal for their kind assistance all through the trip to make it so pleasant for the members of the party.

Edmonton Exhibition

A splendid list of attractions has been engaged to be presented in front of the grand stand in the afternoon and evening of each day at the Edmonton Exhibition, (August 12 to 17) including some special numbers engaged direct from the Western Vaudeville Association of Chicago, and embracing the Sutcliffes, a Scotch troupe of acrobats, dancers and musicians; the De Dio circus of trained ponies and dogs, including the "evergreen bucking mule." The refined and artistic act given by the Davies Family—father, mother and four children, and by a troupe of Japanese jugglers, all go to make up a program that cannot fail to please.

One of the best features of the evening's performance will be a grand military tattoo. The tattoo is an event that takes place in the army camps of the world, at the end of the day's manoeuvres, each country having different forms. The tattoo arranged for this fair will be national in scope, showing detachments of the armies of England, Europe, United States and Canada, presenting a magnificent array of color, marching soldiery and fireworks.

Ivory from Milk
One of the latest discoveries of the synthetic chemists is how to make ivory out of nothing more wonderful than cow's milk—and very good ivory at that, according to all accounts. The original idea was to use the new ivory for piano and organ keys because it preserves its original color indefinitely, whereas the genuine article turns yellow after a time. But it has been found that the new product is not only an efficient substitute for ivory, but can easily be prepared so as to take the place of amber, horn, coral, celluloid, and such like products, and it is claimed, can hardly be distinguished from them. It is in its position as a substitute for ivory that the new material has caused most surprise, however, because it has the appearance of being another instance of improving upon Nature. The new ivory takes a very high and lasting polish, and will probably not lack a commercial field for itself, as natural ivory continues to grow scarcer and dearer year by year.

The good widow was about to sell her household furniture, her rugs, plated ware and what not. As she was going over these articles her eyes filled with tears; a host of memories rose to her mind, and, laying aside a half-dozen knives, she said:—
Oh dear! I can't let these go. They've been in poor George's mouth too often!

King of the Barbers

The sudden death of Chaudri Lala Meah, the head barber of Madras, at Veerappa Varar, Coll Street, Mylapore, recently, has disclosed interesting details about the working of the barber fraternity of Madras.

The fraternity has been in existence for over 129 years. Chaudri is commonly known in the North of India as barrister, or vakkil, but the post amongst the barbers of Madras carries a much higher position. He is their head and their judge. He has eight councillors, or jurors, and he decides cases that come up before him with their aid.

The Chaudri's post is a life appointment. When he dies, forty days after his death a mass meeting of barbers is held, and the vacancy is filled.

The elected man from precedence should have been a juror, should be a man of good birth, education, and character. The barber fraternity of Madras now consists of 160 Mohammedan barbers, and will meet at the Mohammedan barbers' mosque in Portuguese Church Street, North Georgetown which is supported by the Mohammedan barbers of Madras, and by the fines levied by the Chaudri, to elect their Chaudri from one of the jurors, and place on the jury one of their own men.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Halls Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Halls Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the cause of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

The Most Luxurious Train

The Russian Royal special train is the most and most luxurious in Europe. When it was constructed it was devised to stand a charge of dynamite, and it cannot be taken fast over most of the European lines, because their rails are too light.

The train contains a small chapel, with an icon of peculiar sanctity, a library, bath-rooms, drawing-room, a dining room and bed-rooms. The servants' quarters are at the rear, and consist simply of an ordinary van-like carriage arranged with sleeping-bunks, as if on board ship. The train is so made that it can be changed to fit the Russian or the mid-European gauge.

Information Lacking

This was about the fifteenth time that the prisoner had been accused and brought to trial for theft. Unfortunately, on this occasion the lawyer who was to defend him was ill.

Your honor, said the prisoner to the judge. I should like to have an adjournment. My lawyer is not well.

But, replied the judge, you were caught with your hand in the gentleman's pocket. What can your counsel say in your defence?

Precisely, your honor; that is what I am anxious to know.

FAMILY RUNT

Kansas Men Says Coffee Made Him That

"Coffee has been used in our family of eleven—father, mother, five sons and four daughters—for thirty years. I am the eldest of the boys and have always been considered the runt of the family and a coffee toper.

"I continued to drink it for years until I grew to be a man, and then I found I had stomach trouble, nervous headaches, poor circulation, was unable to do a full day's work, took medicine for this, that, and the other thing, without the least benefit. In fact I only weighed 114 when I was 28.

"Then I changed from coffee to Postum, being the first one in our family to do so. I noticed as did the rest of the family, that I was surely gaining strength and flesh. Shortly after I was visiting my cousin who said, 'You look so much better, you're getting fat.'

"At breakfast his wife passed me a cup of coffee, as she knew I was always such a coffee drinker, but I said, 'No, thank you.'

"What said my cousin, 'you quit coffee? What do you drink?'

"Postum, I said, 'or water, and I am well.' They did not know what Postum was, but my cousin had stomach trouble and could not sleep at night from drinking coffee three times a day. He was glad to learn about Postum but said he never knew coffee hurt anyone. (Tea is just as injurious as coffee because it contains caffeine, the same drug found in coffee.)

"After understanding my condition and how I got well he knew what to do for himself. He discovered that coffee was the cause of his trouble as he never used tobacco or anything else of the kind. You should see the change in him now. We both believe that if persons who suffer from coffee drinking would stop and use Postum they could build back to health and happiness. Name given by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ont.

An Elephant Dentist

The elephant at the Riverdale Zoo acts as its own dentist. A short time ago it pulled a tooth which had been bothering it, the operation being witnessed by a number of persons who were watching the animal at the time.

It appeared to be in pain, and worked its trunk round in its mouth as though to dislodge something unpleasant. At last, after moving its trunk frantically, the animal drew something from its mouth. It cast the tooth thus extracted out of the enclosure. The molar was large, and had evidently broken off in the gum, as all the root did not come out.

The crown was in a good state of preservation, but there were signs of decay lower down.

DISTRESS FROM INDIGESTION

TRIED IN VAIN TO GET A CURE—ALL MEDICINES FAILED

Old Trouble Disappeared When the Liver and Bowels Were Set Right by

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS.

You cannot make a greater mistake than to think that indigestion is confined to the stomach. It is a disease of the liver and bowels, and it is only by getting these organs healthy and active that you can ever hope to cure chronic indigestion.

Here are two cases reported by Mr. Skinner which tell of continued failure to cure indigestion by dosing the stomach. Both were cured thoroughly by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Mr. A. C. Skinner, Atlantic St., Hardwoodhill, Sydney, C.B., writes:—"My wife was troubled with indigestion and tried all sorts of medicines in vain. Hearing about Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, I got her to try them, and to our great delight she was cured. We would not think of being without them in the house for use when the liver and bowels became sluggish.

I told a friend about them and gave him a box. He had suffered from indigestion for years and tried most everything he could get. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills were also successful in his case, and he says they beat any medicine he ever came across.

A well-known American soldier, General Nelson A. Miles, became reminiscent at a dinner one evening.

There is a lot of humor, real humor, to be found on the battlefield, he said. I remember the case of a retreat which was really a rout. In this retreat the commanding general, as he galloped along like the wind, turned to an aide-de-camp who was urging his horse to the limit, and asked:—

Who are our rear guard?

The aide, without the slightest hesitation, replied:—

Those who have the worst horses, sir.

The Population of the Ocean

A striking proof of the vastness and variety of the population of the sea is furnished by a committee of the zoological department of the British Association in that part of the Irish Sea surrounding the Isle of Man.

Out of the 1,000 species marine animals collected 224 never before had been found in that region, 38 were previously unknown as inhabitants of the British waters, and 17 were entirely new to science, indeed, they were animals whose existence had never been suspected.—New York Herald.

A noted professor of music, a German, was supervising the work of an orchestra at rehearsal, and he became much annoyed with the conductor for his erratic use of the baton. Stopping the band, he said to the culprit: Mistake Jones, you would make a beautiful conductor—for see omnibus; you vix always behind.

About Thunderstorms

Thunderstorms never occur in the Arctic regions. The nearer the equator the more severe are the electric manifestations.

In certain parts of Central Africa the average run of thunderstorms is 250 days per year, yet there are some very curious exceptions. In Sumatra and Java, both very hot climates there are only ninety-two storms yearly, and in Borneo only about fifty. The Gold Coast of Africa has only about sixty a year, which is less than occur in Florida, though the latter country is outside the tropics.

In Java there is a thunder-storm every day for five months. Perhaps the most astonishing fact in regard to thunderstorms is that the island of Mauritius, which is only 550 miles east of Madagascar, has on an average only one thunderstorm in eighty years.

Yet in Madagascar the lightning is more destructive than anywhere else in the world, the annual death roll being over three hundred.

Rather Too Smart

Mrs. Gayboy had friends to tea, one of them being the wife of a learned professor.

I wish I knew where George was! remarked the hostess referring to her rather dissipated husband.

The professor's lady drew herself up.

I presume my dear, she said primly, you mean you wish you knew where he is?

Oh, no I don't! retorted Mrs. Gayboy. I know where he is. He is upstairs in bed, with a bruised eye and a fearful headache. I want to know where he was!

Unsatisfactory Evidence

The witness was a young German immigrant whose evidence was required in an accident case.

Now, Brizmann, said the examining counsel, what do you do?

Ah vos bretty vell, replied the witness.

I am not inquiring as to your health, I want to know what you do.

Ah work!

Where do you work? continued the counsel.

In a factory.

What kind of a factory?

It was a pretty big factory.

Your honor, said the lawyer, turning to the judge if this goes on we need an interpreter. Then he turned to the witness again.

Now, Brizmann, what do you make in the factory? he asked.

You want to know vot I make in der factory?

Exactly! Tell us what you make.

Twenty shillings and sixpence a week.

Then the interpreter got a chance to earn his daily bread.

Paddy was driving home from the market with his ass and cart when he was accosted by a police-sergeant, who charged him with overloading the donkey.

SICKNESS AND DISEASE CANNOT BE CURED WITH DRUGS

DOCTORS' BILLS ARE EXPENSIVE. The constant use of drugs is expensive, and likewise unnecessary. Nature is the only reliable doctor. Get close to Nature and be your own physician. It is not hard to do, not difficult to learn. Nature's laws are simple. When the fire burns low, you don't run for the doctor or drug store or the patent medicine bottle, you simply put on more fuel. So when disease or sickness attacks the body of your self or any member of your family, go to Nature's vast storehouse of vitality and draw therefrom the revitalizing forces which banish disease and make you well.

One of our local sports, Norman Kalbfleisch, went on a side trip to Calgary on Sunday. It is reported that he was not alone at Calgary. What's the attraction, Norman?

Mr. Geo. Moore of Sebringville, Ont., was visiting with his friend, L. J. Kalbfleisch, for a few days last week, both making a business visit to Calgary on Saturday.

Don't forget the lawn party at Mr. Fred Moyle's residence tonight. Band will be in attendance. Ice cream, cake, sandwiches and coffee will be served. Come and bring your friends and spend a social evening with us.

The picnic of the Presbyterian church Sunday school will be held on Thursday afternoon at the butte. Parents and friends of the scholars who wish to bring eatables are requested to leave them at the church before three o'clock, when they will be taken out to the grounds.

Will Represent Didsbury

Didsbury will be represented at the big stampede to be held in Calgary in September. Mr. Less Richardson of the Alexandra hotel, who is one of the old time cowboys of the Medicine Hat district, has entered the roping contest for the world's championship. Mr. Richardson has had a great deal of experience along these lines, having roped in Idaho, Nevada, Montana, besides in Alberta, and has won a great deal of money in these contests. On one occasion, in competition with six other ropers, he beat them by 37 seconds, and tied two steers in one minute 54 seconds. At one competition in Idaho he tied one in 30 seconds. Less should stand a pretty good show to tear away some of the prize money at Calgary if he gets into trim, which he intends doing as he left for his ranch for a good practice this week.

Teachers Engaged

All the teachers for the public school have now been engaged for the next school term. Out of the old teaching staff only one is left, Miss Myrl Mowers. The other teacher who have been engaged are as follows: F. H. Butcher, B. A., Calgary, a honor graduate of Toronto University and who has been teaching high school work in other parts of the province, has been engaged as principal at a salary of $1200 per annum.

E. Gladstone Grant, who holds a first class teacher's certificate, has been engaged as assistant principal, and will have charge of the new room at a salary of $780 per annum.

Miss L. McMurchy and Miss Anna J. Bennett have been engaged at a salary of $600 per annum each.

A cheque of $4 was received by Mr. Reed, Sec. Treas. of the School Board, from Inspector Aylesworth, as a prize awarded by the Strathcona Trust to the Didsbury school for physical training, discipline, tactics, etc.

This report of the school is a fairly good indication of the way Didsbury is progressing, and the addition of another male teacher to the staff is another wise move on the part of the Board as some of the higher grades of learning will be taught which will overcome the necessity of parents sending their children out of town for this higher instruction.

Court of Revision

The Court of Revision sat in the Council Chambers on Wednesday last to hear appeals against assessment, of which there were quite a number. Mayor Atkins, Councillors St. Clair, Wrigglesworth, Chambers and Shantz were present.

Mr. J. L. Beane's assessment on acreage was changed from 30 to 29 acres.

Mr. S. J. Miller's assessment on lot for $200 was confirmed.

Mr. A. G. Studer's assessment on four lots in the northwest part of town was confirmed.

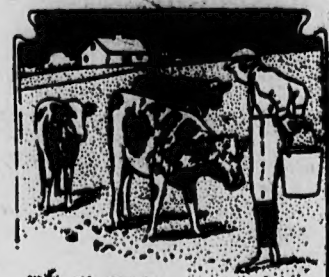

Mr. C. Hiebert's assessment on five lots confirmed.

Mr. Geo. Enders' farm assessment confirmed.

Assessment on five acres in block D. changed from $750 to $650. Osler, Hammond & Nanton (townsite trustees) assessment confirmed. The Court then adjourned.

Found Dead in Slough

A sad story of an old man wandering from home and being found dead in a slough was reported this week as happening about twenty-five miles west of town. Mr. Steven, father of the late Mrs. J. Burgoyne, an old man over 80 years of age was the victim. It appears that he has been living with Mr. Burgoyne for some time and one day last week when he (Burgoyne) had to leave him at home to go to one of the lumber camps the old gentleman wandered from the house and evidently missed his way. A search party was organized at once when his absence was discovered with the above results.

Too Much Waste

Mr. Eph. Milner of Montgomery County, Iowa, who was visiting with Mr. B. A. St. Clair for a few days at the beginning of the week, paid us a friendly call and incidentally the conversation turned to the present and future prospects of this district so far as he could see it.

Mr. Milner is a farmer of 45 years' experience and is one of the leading men in his county who established the first corn school in Red Oak, Iowa, and consequently should know somewhat of what he is talking about. He stated that he thought we had one of the best dairying countries he had ever seen but that we were making a big mistake in not looking after the drainage of the sloughs and more especially there were too many big manure piles lying around idle. His opinion was that this manure should be given back to the land at once as it was being wasted, and while at present we were growing good crops we would have to pay in the future for this waste.

On his return to Iowa after a trip to Spokane, Portland, Los Angeles and the state of Texas, he is going to write his impressions of this district for publication in the "Wallace Farmer," a big farmer's publication issued at Des Moines, Iowa.

Paid Accounts

A short adjourned meeting of the Council was held last week for the purpose of paying a few bills and arranging the by-laws.

The bills ordered paid were as follows: J. Anderson, teaming, $6; H. D. Booker, painting band stand, $40; O. C. Teare, teaming, $7.95.

The by-laws were left in the hands of the Solicitor and Town Clerk to arrange.
